How to Use Your Dolphin Pocket Digital Camera

Introduction

The camera is capable of taking and storing 20 CIF images or 80 QCIF images. These images may be uploaded to a PC via an available USB port.

User Interface

The camera has two switches:

- SW1 is the shutter switch
- SW2 is the mode switch

The LCD display is combined with SW2 to show the setting information.

Installing the Batteries

The Dolphin Pocket Digital Camera is powered by two (2) AAA batteries, or via the USB connector when attached to a powered USB port on your PC.

1. Push the cover down

2. Insert the new batteries

3. Push the cover up

Switching the camera on

Pressing the SW2 when the LCD is blank will power up the camera and activate the display. The camera will automatically power off after 30 seconds of inactivity. The LCD indicates the camera's mode either Lr for low resolution (80 QCIF images) or Hr for high resolution (20 CIF images). The LCD then displays the number of pictures you have remaining.

Caution:

- When the batteries are unloaded, all of your stored pictures will be lost.
- When the batteries are loaded then the camera will power up again.

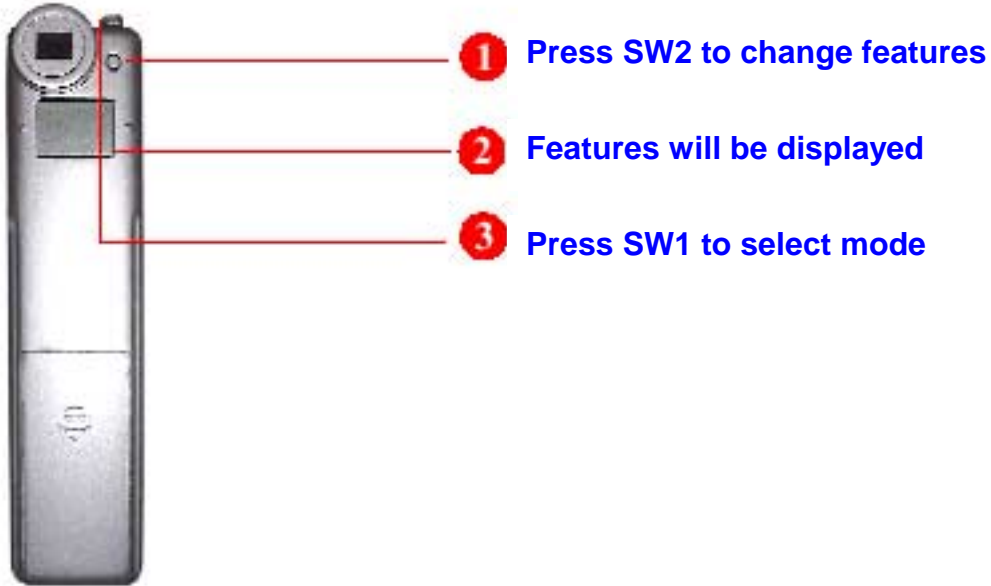

Taking a picture

Additional features

Pressing the mode switch (SW2) repeatedly cycles through additional features as displayed on the LCD. When a given feature is displayed, it may be selected by pressing the shutter button (SW1). If an option is not selected within 5 seconds, the display will revert back to the number of available pictures.

Self Timer

To activate the self-time option, press the mode button until the letters "St" appear on the LCD. Pressing the shutter button will start a 10 second self-timer. The camera indicates a countdown by issuing 10 short beeps. A long beep followed by a short beep indicates a successful photograph. Please note that the self-timer option cannot be selected when the camera is full.

Continuous Mode

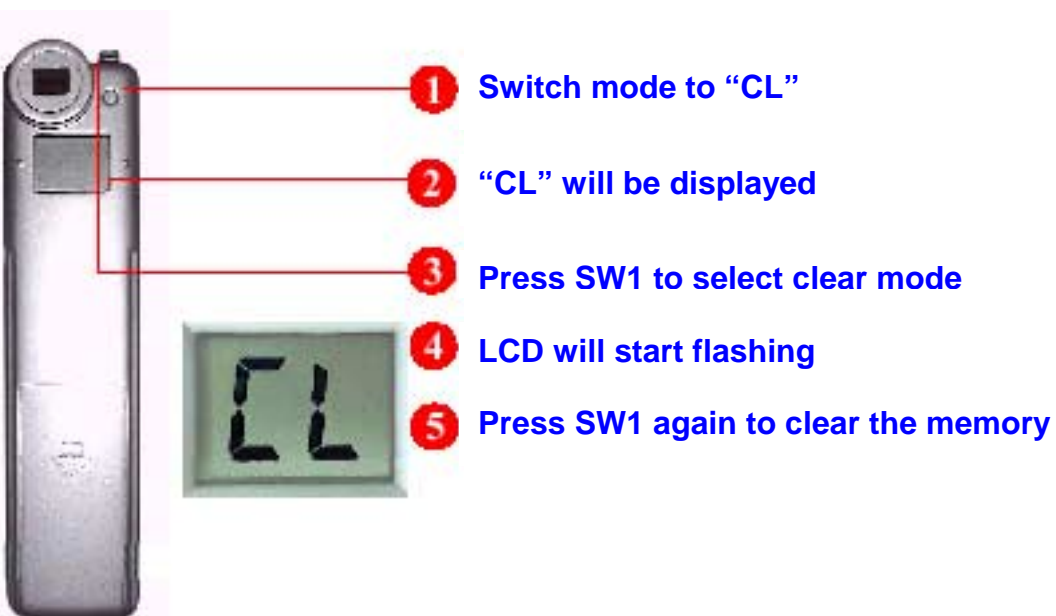

Pictures may be taken continuously as long as the shutter button is pressed (and the camera is not full):

- Press the mode button (SW2) until the letters “Ct” appear on the LCD. Pressing the shutter button (SW1) within 5 seconds will cause the camera to start taking pictures continuously until the shutter button is released. If the shutter button (SW1) is not pressed within 5 seconds the camera mode will revert back to normal picture taking. Note: During continuous mode, the camera may allow pictures to be taken with incorrect exposure.

Clearing the Stored Images

Press the mode (SW2) button until the letters “CL” appear on the LCD. Pressing the shutter button (SW1) once will cause the camera to beep and the letters “CL” will start flashing. Pressing the shutter button again within 5 seconds will clear the camera and reset the picture counter.

Changing the Picture Resolution

Picture resolution may only be changed when the camera's memory is empty.

Caution:

Download the pictures from the camera if you wish to save them. They will be automatically cleared from the camera's memory if you switch resolution modes.

To change resolution, press the mode switch (SW2) until the resolution option is displayed. The camera allows you to toggle between high resolution (Hr) and low resolution (Lr) modes. The camera will issue a beep and reset the display to indicate the number of pictures available.
